R. A. BICKEL WINS

Agents in United States.

The following is from the Huntington Herald:

Huntington scored again when R. A. Bickle, a local insurance man was awarded the first prize for agents selling the greatest percentage of their allotment by the Home Life Insurance Company of New York. This competition included all of the agents of the country all over the United States. There were four prizes given. The prize which Mr. Bickel received is a watch fob, set with an antique Roman coin especially mounts ed by Marcus of New York. It is engraved with the words "First Prize-Class A, 1913."

Mr. Bickle was one of the honored guests at a banquet given for the agents at the New Astor on the night of the fourteenth. The presentation was an occasion of great impressiveness and Mr. Bickle was made to feel his honor deeply. In addition to giving him much attention the president of the company indications are that it will be a big sent to Mrs. Bickle at her room in the hotel a big bouquet of roses.

Mr. Bickle is general agent for this company in Wset Virginia and part of Kentucky. The business he sold in 1913 amounted to about a hundred and forty per cent of his allotment."

The above will be read with much interest by the many friends of Mr. Bickle in this, his native county. His success is highly gratifying to their trip to New York.

A. J. HEABERLIN DEAD.

The following item from Herald, erview hospital. Gate City, Va., refers to a man who lived at Fallsburg, this county:

FATAL CASE OF

Winchester With the Disease.

The NEWS of last week briefly mentioned the fact that on Wednesday Mr. Edward Clark had been brought to Louisa from Winchester, Ky., by his brother, W. D. Clark, of this place and was then at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. A. C. Ferrell, on Lock Avenue, critically ill. Mr. Clark rapidly grew worse painfully hurt on Tuesday last, the and early on Saturday morning he died of cerebro spinal meningitis. Distant relatives had been sent for and the burial was delayed until their arrival, when interment was made Sunday afternoon in Fulkerson cemetery. Because of the highly infectious character of the disease which caused the untimely death of the unfortunate young man no service was held at the house where the death occurred, but appropriate religious services, conducted by the Rev. B. M. Keith, pastor of the M. E. Church South, were held at the grave.

The deceased was born at Esmont, Va., and was 29 years old. He was ers struck oil in the first sand and married in Barboursville, W. Va., on the 8th of March last to Miss Sammie Ferrell, of Louisa. He is survived by his father, four sisters and two brothers. The brothers are W. D. Clark, of this city, and C. Adams Clark, of California. The sisters are ing. The funeral was very largely Mrs. Ella Wilson, of Putney, W. Va., Mrs. C. N. Bates, of Lathrope, O., Young and Mr. Thurman Felty, both Mrs. E. J. Matheney, of Mammoth, W. Va., and Mrs. Helen Kuykendall, of Charleston, W. Va. Of these the father, two of the sisters and one brother were present at the funeral. Mr. Clark was an Odd Fellow and a member of Mammoth, W. JUDGE M. M. REDWINE ISSUES A CARD

The suffragetts of Kentucky re- A Few Words to the People of the 32nd Judicial District of Kentucky.

Having recently been called from the private walks of life to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Hannah, who has been elevated to the highest court in our commonwealth, I am at the work of holding your courts for a short time. Yielding to what seems to be a decided madesire to be once elected Circuit Judge of my native district and conever elected Judge I must be now. I have decided to be a candidate for regular primary to be held in August 1915. I do not believe I should or will have any serious opposition, yet, if I do, I hope to have all democrats who believe that with my exwith credit to myself and to the good of all the people, to give me their support which I will ever appreciate and gracefully remember.

I pledge to you my word and sacred honor that I will rigidly enforce the law and crush out the evils, which do so much to disturb the Very sincerely yours, M. M. REDWINE.

GREAT VALLEYS FLOODED BUT NO LIVES LOST.

Piedmont, W. Va., Jan. 15 .- A wall of water twenty feet high is sweeping down the North branch of the Potomac river, following the bursting of the dam of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Dobbin, According to reports reaching here, the inhabitants of the valley fled to the hills. No loss of life is reported. The dam is one thousand and seventy-five feet wide, backing water for over three miles. The dam was first noticed to be cracked alst night by watchman and early today a portion of the structure gave away. Shortly before noon the second break occurred. Half a dozen of the towns in the path of the flood are threatened with destruction. The monetary loss will be Reassured that the worst of the flood which swept down Stony creek and upper Potomac valleys yesterday, as a result of the breaking of the great dam of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co., at Dobbin, W. Va., is over, the hundreds of refugees who fled to the hills upon the first warning began to return to their homes early today.

The valley is getting itself gether and counting the damage from the flood. Although thousands of persons were imperilled no lives were lost, so far as has been ascertained. There were, however, reports of many thrilling rescues.

It is believed that the prompt action of the Pulp and Paper Co.'s employes in sending out warning of the impending danger throughout the velley enabled all in the danger zone to escape.

It probably will be several days before anything like an accurate estimate of the damage to property can be obtained, but officials here fix it at about $200,000.

With telephone and telegraph communication re-established, definite estimates of the loss soon may be had. The greatest damage was to railroad property.

The telegraph operator at Schell is being lauded today as a hero. He stuck to his post until he heard the noise of the onrushing waters, flashing a warning in all directions. It was feared he had been lost, but he turned up safe at Cumberland later in the day.

The flood warning emptied the town of Shaw and sent many residents of Blaine, Harrison, Kitzmiller and other small places in the path of the water hurrying to the ridegs.

Fear that the waters might rise still further prevented many of the refugees from returning to their homes, even into towns where little damage was done.

The floodwave apparently expended its energy in a mad twenty-mile dash down the valley of the Stony creek from the face of the bursted dam to Schell. This valley, however, was practically uninhabited. It was owned by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company as a right-ofway and watershed.

The big dam which impounded a lake of water five miles long and which was sixty-five feet high had been weakening for several days. Wednesday night it began to crumble and a farmer from the mountain village of Mt. Storm rode down the valley warning the few inhabitants of the impending break.

Early yesterday a part of the big structure gave way and at noon the sweeping waters carried away the greater part of the face of the dam in a mass of wreckage. The released weight of water in a wall-like wave swept down to Schell. There the roadbed of the Western Maryland Railroad was washed out and traffic on the road was tied up. Coal and lumber trains are waiting on both sides of the flood.

RELIGIOUS MEN QUARREL.

An intinerant disciple of the House of David, Benton Harbor, Mich., came to Pikeville a week ago, and has held several meetings on the street, in which he promulgated the doctrin of eternal life in the flesh. To this no one paid any heed or took exception. But at his meeting Tuesday he was interrupted in his discourse by revival now in progress at the court house. Several bystanders became an noyed at the brusque interruption, while others of the faith applauded. Angry men said, "let the stranger have a square deal," but the irate Winter belabored the stranger with scriptural quotations with the usual result, which afforded ample enjoyment to the multitude.
